“ Dear Mrs. Ruth Glass and family,

It is with a sincere heart that I would like to offer my condolences to you and your family in this time of loss of your beloved husband David. Of course, we all have the perception of the public man with his long successful history in business and baseball but to your family he was husband, father and grandfather.

It was so precious to hear how he would stop business discussions with staff to inquire about their family, wanting to make sure that loving family activity was frequent and current. We can only imagine what this time means to you and your family. We pledge to pray for you and your family as you learn to live without this loving, family man but taking heart with the promise of a reunion one day.
