“ I knew Carty through a mutual friend and colleague here at my firm. For many years Carty joined us for our Friday lunch along with another distinguished U.S. military veteran, Chester “Chet” Guerry, both of whom were of similar age and of similar distinctions in their careers. Both men became dear friends until such time that age dictated an end to their social interactions. Over time I learned first hand of Carty’s varied and reputation laden career. How one condenses so much in one lifetime is hard for me and most others to imagine. Knowing Carty was an inspiration to me as to what it means to serve, to get on with life as it is dealt out, to remain true to others with respect to responsibilities, and to do so in a modest manner without fanfare. I am so grateful and proud that I was given the opportunity to know him and to have had him as a friend.

“ During his last few months in Cary, NC, he befriended my mother, Frances Turnage. They both had been fortunate enough to have had amazing marriages and loved to talk about their spouses. My dad was Army, 82nd Airborne during Korean War. They enjoyed talking to each other, and though they both had some dementia, I thoroughly enjoyed talking with them at meals and on the weekends. I was able to spend a good deal of time with him, and we loved listening to his military stories. His achievements were astonishing. We are so sorry for your loss. He was so kind and complimentary.

“ I loved and adored "Carty" and Margaret! The gift they gave to my Aunt June, Mike, Gary and Randy Bell after the loss of my precious Uncle and their husband and father, Fred Bell. Without hesitation he was there for those 3 boys who lost their father at a very vulnerable age and it was very difficult. He gave to all! When I came to Carolina for college from Florida I believe his love for our Gamecocks made me more die-hard than I normally would be. I considered Carty and Margaret as family and they embraced me from the moment I arrived for college! They also were very encouraging with my nursing career. They also had the 2 biggest Great Danes I ever saw! Hilarious to see them take the entire sofas at the house! I never knew Carty's full resume', what an amazing life and patriot!! I am sure his greatest gift is his grandchildren and great-grandchildren! I loved Carty and Margaret and will never forget them.
