From the first time we met, I knew there was something different and unique about Irina. She was an avid learner and student of so many things. I remember her teaching you, Vik, how to swim from the side of the pool, pushing you to excel in school and even to gaining US citizenship. She always did it the most excellent way. I will miss her and will miss the times when she could relax and just be a little silly! Love you, Karen and Vince G.
