

Jennifer Lynn Holloway

November 12, 1986 - May 26, 2024

Jennifer Lynn Holloway (Seage) of Cary, NC passed away on May 26, 2024 surrounded by her loving family. She was born Jennifer Lynn Seage in Chesapeake, VA on November 12, 1986 to Richard James and Mary Ellen Seage. A bright student, she received her undergraduate degree from the University of Virginia School of Engineering and Applied Science. Following graduation, she lived in Arlington, VA where she worked as a defense and intelligence contractor. Jenn and Neil Holloway fell in love in 2010 and they wed October 5, 2013 in Herndon, VA. In 2015, they moved to Cary, NC where Jenn worked as a director of survey research and a 7th grade math and science teacher.

While Jenn enjoyed woodworking, dancing, travel, a good nap, reality dating shows, mystery books, and Neil's cooking, she mostly enjoyed spending time at home with her family and friends. A kind, intelligent, witty, and fun-loving person, Jenn leaves behind many adoring family members and friends, including the doctors, nurses, and social workers who took such good care of her and her children. Jenn is preceded in death by her twin sons Jacob Wyatt and Owen Henry. In addition to her parents and husband, Jenn is survived by her 3-year-old daughter Amelia "Millie" Mae and her 1-month-old son Jennson James "J.J."

“ I grew up with Jenn, beginning our time together at St. Matthew’s. Jenn was always the sweetest person anyone had ever met. I remember a time when we choreographed a dance together in middle school. I remember we were awful dancers (back in the 90s) but we laughed and laughed trying to put that dance together. I was stunned when I heard the news about Jenn. Such a beautiful girl inside and out. I want to send my deepest condolences to Jenn’s parents and her family. To know Jenn was to love Jenn, and I’ll always remember the beautiful mark she left on this world! Love,

“ I went to high school with Jenn. It was a small school, and I am sure we took many classes together. English class is what sticks out in my mind. When I picture her now as she was in high school, the image I see is her smiling and laughing. She had a wonderful laugh.

“ To Jennifer

*When the world you're in Shatters in pieces
In slow motion
The ones standing around
Watching – loving- tenderly
Caring
Try to catch the pieces
...Hold them in place
'Til the whole atmosphere
Is Filled with surreal
Existence.
How can this be?
And yet is it...
The pieces fall and gently
Gather at the feet
Of those standing by - and even
Those loving from afar.
The air resumes it's place
The stillness is heard
And you are gone
And we will never Ever forget you.*

“ Jenn is an amazing human being. I say "is" because I see her spirit alive in her beautiful daughter. Jenn always greeted people with a smile and would sincerely ask other people "How are you...Are you okay today?" And she would stop and take the time to listen, because she had such a caring spirit. My condolences and love go out to her family, husband, and parents.
