“ Lori and I met and became friends in the 9th grade. I read what others have written, and I see the same girl I knew and loved. She was creative, funny, sweet, giving, and charming... She wrote poems and song lyrics, and even nicknamed her mother, Bience, another great lady, who raised her daughters to be smart and loyal and to live life not observe it. I've had no contact with Lori over some 45 years, but my thoughts of her conjure in a moment, and she is here tying bows in our hair, perusing the latest fashion magazine, harmonizing some radio hit, or dreaming of a future we could not have guessed. What a joy that she had a happy life among people who obviously love her, and celebrate her many gifts.

A couple of memories of our time with Lorinda and Dan at Cherry Branch. Lorinda made a stranger from another country feel welcome in the neighborhood and shared her wonderful family with us.
I loved to hear Lorinda's laugh as I was in the garden or on the beach and so many planned and spontaneous times were spent together.
She was a fabulous friend, fun company and very caring as I got to know over over the course of several years.
I know she will be sorely missed by her adoring husband and the boys, they will have so many happy memories to sustain them and will be able to share these with each other.
I am so happy Lorinda got her two 'miracles' before the end as she told me in emails and phone calls we shared.
Bye bye Lorinda my friend we will all miss you so much xx

I have never known anyone as vibrant and fun loving as Lorinda. She didn't know a stranger and thanks to her, the DQs were brought together. It was an honor to sing beside her in the Master Chorale, it was an even greater honor to call her my friend and sister of my heart. She always greeted my Dad with a big hug and a smooch at Chorale practice (which he LOVED) and always remembered to send cards and pictures to my ailing Mom. When they both passed away within 24 hours of one another, I pictured them walking hand in hand through beautiful gardens making their way to the other side. I will miss you forever my friend, and I will sing with you again in Paradise!

“ So many wonderful memories, from our college days, best Roomie ever. Where Lorinda met Dan and I met Bob. We both started our first teaching jobs together..planned our weddings the same year..oh those dark green bridesmaid dresses! Shared the joys through each of our 3 children. For 46 years we never missed a Birthday or Christmas card even though we both moved from state to state. I will miss her love of life...her music ,the arts, and our favorite gardening and love of the ocean. No matter how much time passed between calls, it was always just like yesterday. My heart will always have a special place for Lorinda...until we meet again. Love to Dan and men. God Bless, Marge.

“ She was always so happy and smiling. She was one of the most welcoming people we ever met and made you a member of her family automatically. She sang like an angel and was always a member of a big choir where ever she lived. We are grateful for all the years we were able to share her life and the lives of her entire family. The good Lord does not make them better and we assume that he needed another member of the choir.

She will be sorely missed by her loving and doting husband, Dan and her boys Brendan, Kyle and Colin as well as her extended family.

*God be with you, Lorinda, and smile on us all.
