“ Blake and Erin and Ava, We love you and are praying for your comfort, peace, and healing that only God can give. We love you and will be continuing to pray for you and your family. We never got to meet Maddox, but we feel close to him because you let us. Thank you for that. Love to you, Doris and Bella, and Mandy

“ My thoughts are with Michael and Erin, may your many prayers bring you the peace of our great God of comfort with His promise to provide the resurrection. May you find comfort in one of my favorite scriptural thoughts found at Psalm 94:19, "When my disquieting thoughts became many inside of me, Your own consolations began to fondle my soul." My sincere condolences to you and your family.

“ Though we've never met, I almost feel as if we have. Someone very close to you informed me, soliciting prayer efforts on Maddox's and everyone's behalf weeks before the arrival of that miracle child. Through God's merciful delivering hands and grace I shared in your anxiety, your relief, your wonder, your joy, your concern, your grief, your loss and your heartbreak, too. Nothing is more true than this that I once heard: The most precious things in life are they, that are the first to pass away. With your sweet child now in angel's arms, may the peace that surpasses all understanding - in time - fill all our injured hearts and wounded spirits. You shall remain in mine and other's thoughts and prayers as we remain your friends in memoriam through our lord, Jesus Christ.
