

Nina Barabash

October 9, 1949 - February 16, 2026

Nina Barabash was an extraordinary woman whose life was defined by strength, love, and devotion to her family. She was taken from us by pancreatic cancer, a terrible disease she tried to fight with courage and quiet dignity.

Her life was not always easy but Nina's love never wavered. She was a devoted mother to her children, Rita and Peter, and a loving mother-in-law to Alex. She was a proud and adoring grandmother to Victor, Liam, and Mark, who were the light of her life. Her greatest joy was spending time with her family and watching her grandchildren grow

She is deeply mourned by her family in Moldova, as well as her family and many dear friends all over the world all of whom loved her dearly and feel her loss profoundly. Nina's warmth, resilience, and generous heart touched everyone who knew her.

Nina will be deeply missed, forever loved, and always remembered

“ Nina loved the colors of Fall and came over to admire the brilliant colors of our tree. She insisted on a photograph and we had an impromptu bonfire complete with Smores. Liam was so happy he didn't want to leave. He insisted we all sit around the fire and tell stories. Those were the simple pleasures in life that Nina enjoyed. May she rest in peace with her beloved Sam

“ Nina was our babysitter, a third grandmother, friend, and wise counselor to the Helm family for many years in Buffalo. She was a caring, authentic and loving adopted family member. Nina was a wonderful role model for my kids and I. She was an integral part of our family. We love her and will miss her.
